

For Immediate Release

September 25, 2007

Ryan Lewis, FWBBC Recruitment Director, Resigns

NASHVILLE, TN—Ryan Lewis, director of recruitment at Free Will Baptist Bible College since 2005, has resigned to accept the associate pastor position at First FWB Church in Amory, Mississippi, according to Jeff Caudill, director of enrollment services. Lewis begins his new duties October 1. He will also work with the church's music and youth, and coach the boys' basketball team at Amory Christian Academy.

Mr. Caudill said, "Ryan has been a great representative for FWBBC. He is a good communicator and was at his best explaining how an education with a Christian worldview could benefit prospective students. We will miss his commitment to excellence and his positive attitude on campus. He is a good friend, and we wish him well in his new responsibilities."

Ryan graduated from FWBBC summa cum laude in 2005 with a B.S. degree in Exercise Science. He was voted Most Outstanding Student his senior year and was included in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Before joining the enrollment management team full-time, Lewis worked the college's recruitment phone bank in 2004. While a student, he traveled with the New Mercy and Rejoice ministry teams, and played baseball and basketball with the FWBBC Flames.

Ryan is the son of Reverend Ernie Lewis, pastor of Blue Point FWB Church in Cisne, Illinois, and assistant clerk of the National Association of Free Will Baptists. His brother Derek is a sophomore at FWBBC.