

Lady Flames Struggle Over the Weekend

Appalachian Bible College	58
Free Will Baptist Bible College	49
Ohio Christian University	81
Free Will Baptist Bible College	32
Kentucky Christian University	78
Free Will Baptist Bible College	48

The Lady Flames dropped three games over the weekend as they made their swing north to play Appalachian Bible College, Ohio Christian University, and Kentucky Christian University.

FWBBC had their best chance for a victory Thursday, but came up short against ABC, 58-49. Three Flames finished in double figures led by Loni Walser's 21 points, Rachel Burns' 13 points, and Jaclyn Martin's 11 points.

Against OCU and KCU, the Lady Flames were never in either game and lost convincingly. Martin led the way in the OCU game with 16 points and Walser with 14 points.

In the KCU contest, Walser had the hot hand, scoring 24 points. Martin had a strong game, scoring 18 points and pulling down 10 rebounds.

"We knew it would be a tough weekend," said Coach Larry Bryan. "But the girls work hard and are such a blessing to coach."