

Flames Lose Close One

Free Will Baptist Bible College	19	25	23	22
Hiwassee	25	15	25	25

September 3, 2011. The Flames came out of the gate slowly Saturday at Hiwassee and dropped the first game of the match to Hiwassee College 25-19. They turned things around in game two with fine net play and won 25-15. The rest of the match came down to Hiwassee winning the “big” points and taking the match.

“We overcame a number of obstacles in this match,” said Flames coach Amy Walker. “The girls stayed focused most of the time, but let two Hiwassee players outdo us with their serves. I was proud of our enthusiasm tonight. We will be ready when they come to our place.”

The Flames were led by Rachel Burns with eight kills, Emily Whitworth with 11 assists, and Katie Duttine with eight aces. Burns added seven digs while Whitworth and Duttine each had six.

Now 0-2, the Flames travel to Atlanta to play Pointe University (formerly Atlanta Christian College).
