FWBBC Sets Spring Senior Days, Welcome Days

NASHVILLE, TN—Three major campus events for high school sophomores, juniors, and seniors are planned for spring 2007 at Free Will Baptist Bible College, according to Ryan Lewis, director of recruitment.

Senior Days get under way January 25-27 and February 15-17, and are designed especially for high school seniors. The seniors will meet with financial aid officers, consult with faculty advisors, attend classes, and mingle with current FWBBC students.

Mr. Lewis said, "We had 34 seniors on campus during the November 2006 Senior Days, and we hope to see that many and more this spring. This is an important event for providing high school seniors with an opportunity to see what FWBBC has to offer for them and their future."

The big 2007 Welcome Days celebration meets March 29-31 and is expected to attract 200-plus high school sophomores and juniors. Although planned with sophomores and juniors in mind, high school seniors are welcome to attend if they are unable to visit the campus during Senior Days.

Welcome Days activities will include a variety of events ranging from class attendance, a special reception with FWBBC President Matt Pinson, drama and choir presentations, question and answer sessions, a Flames baseball game, and much more.
